Clothing Collection

Thank you to the families who have donated items of clothing for our collection. As we have not received many items yet, we are going to extend the final date of hand in, to next Friday.

An ex-head teacher from Stockton is part of a charity who annually bring children from Chernobyl to our area. The children come with only one set of clothing, therefore the charity have asked schools if they can collect donations of clothing for both boys and girls aged between 8-14 years. If you have any suitable clothing, which you would like to donate, could you please send it into school by next Friday. It will be greatly appreciated – thank you.

Road Safety Warning

This week, we received an email from Stockton Council that we wanted to share with you:

As you may have seen or heard in the local press or on social media, there have been incidents of children ‘playing’ on or near some of the busy dual carriageways within the Cleveland area. Thankfully, there have not been any injuries or fatalities in these instances; however, the thoughts of what could have happened are not something any of us want to contemplate. Cleveland Police were involved with an incident on Tuesday evening, which has resulted in two girls being issued with antisocial behaviour warnings.

The Police have asked that all Local Authorities pass the following on to schools and I would be grateful if you could make pupils and parents aware of the recent incidents and the extreme dangers associated with them.

Performance Showcase

Next Wednesday, children with talents in a range of different disciplines are coming together to put on a show for parents. This will include: The Gymnastics team, Choir, Glee Club, Ballet group, Y2 Dance team and a number of children who take small group music lessons. This is a great opportunity for children to show off what they have learnt and let parents see what we get up to! We look forward to seeing you there at 5pm.

Joel McGlynn Visit

A huge thank you to Joel McGlynn, who gave up his time to come and deliver two inspirational presentations to the children on Thursday. Joel is rowing from New York to London next year, to raise awareness of plastic in our oceans. We look forward to raising money for this from our non-uniform day today. Good luck Joel - we look forward to hearing how your adventure goes!

Early Years

The children have come back to Early Years this week full of enthusiasm. They have loved our story of the week ‘Jack and the Beanstalk’ and have enjoyed activities such as retelling the story, measuring beanstalks and learning about the life cycles of plants. A little reminder from Mrs McDonald to the reception children: please could the children practise fastening their buttons at home. Thank you.

Ambassador Training

Last night at Northfield School, all of the ambassadors received their kit for the City Games. They were also informed about all the responsibilities they will have to promote the event. Followed by this they had their pictures taken and enjoyed a motivational speech given by Richard Kilty. Thank you to all the ambassadors for all your hard work.
